Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Species I in the reply filed on Sept 28, 2005 is acknowledged.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the motor driving an oil pump or for starting the engine (claim 5) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claims 1 and 6, it is not entirely clear what functions are explicitly covered by the recitation "...used for any other purposes than as the drive source"; further it is not entirely clear whether or no applicant's specification supports the secondary motor being used for any other purpose than as a vehicle drive.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1, 2, and 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Takahara et al. (US 6,064,161) in view of Bayer (US 5,361,565). Takahara et al teach a hybrid vehicle including an engine (1), a primary motor (26) for driving the vehicle, a secondary motor (10) which is used for operating an auxiliary unit such as vehicle air conditioning when the engine is not running (Col. 2, lines 24-26), the operations of the motors being controlled by a controller (76). The reference to Takahara et al. fails to teach that both motors may be controlled by a common inverter. Bayer teaches that it is well known to control a plurality of motors from a single inverter (204) with a switching device (e.g., 207) for selecting amongst different motors, for the purpose of reducing costs (Col. 14, lines 23-25). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide a single inverter as suggested by Bayer, for the plural motors of the vehicle taught by Takahara et al., for the purpose of reducing the overall vehicle cost.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 3, 4, 8, and 9, as best understood, would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

As regards claims currently rejected under 35 USC §112, second paragraph, please note that rejections under 35 USC §102 and 103 should not be based upon considerable speculation as to the meaning of the terms employed and assumptions as to the scope of the claims when the claims are not definite. See In re Steele 305 F.2d 859, 862, 134 USPQ 292, 295 (CCPA 1962). When no reasonably definite meaning can be ascribed to certain terms in a claim, the subject matter does not become anticipated or obvious, but rather the claim becomes indefinite. See In re Wilson 424 F.2d 1382, 1385, 165 USPQ 494, 496 (CCPA 1970). As such the currently pending claims may be subject to prior art rejections not set forth herein upon the clarification of the claim language.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. DiMarzio (US 4,055,786), Kumar et al. (US 5,266,891), Ibaraki et al. (US 5,635,805), Takahara et al. (US 6,009,365), Urasawa et al. (US 6,569,055), Arimitsu et al. (US 6,624,601), and Minagawa et al. (US 6,646,394) teach motor drive and hybrid vehicle schemes of pertinence.
